The best thing to have in your feed room is a scale. It is important that you weigh your feed so that you are providing enough to your horse to ensure they are getting all the nutrients they need.

That being said, we have put together this table to give you a guide to start with.

Remember to divide feed into a minimum of two equal feedings. Never feed more than 0.5lbs of feed per 100 lbs of body weight in a single feeding (5lbs for a 1,000lb horse).
